

Producing great leaders could not rely only on ideas but on the execution or the process of reaching the goal. It is like tending to a tree so that it will produce good fruits.

“ Ideas alone can’t harness a group of people. We can only move to accomplish a goal when the vision is cast clearly, creatively and consistently.”

John Maxwell

