

Ben Richie Rubion

BS Chemical Engineering | Cebu Institute of Technology
Initially, I must do good with my studies so that later I could have a good job, a stable job with good pay and compensation. So that all those I dreamt of would little by little be realized. The realization of my dreams is my satisfaction, my peace and my fulfillment. And maybe theirs too. Though how simple it may be but it means a lot.

Jason Salazar

BS Accountancy | University of San Carlos
I become stronger as a person, more prepared to face the next fights of life and more invulnerable to problems and even to failures.

Jouana Farlin Seva

BS Psychology | University of San Carlos
At my age, I have to learned many things in life through different circumstances. I've dealt with many people who I believe are totally different from me. I've learned many things from them and will continue learning for other to come. One common thing I've learned from those people is not to waste any opportunity you think is right.

Raphael Sumalinog

BS Electrical Engineering | Cebu Institute of Technology
"Life is a matter of choice, not chance; contentment is not always the fulfillment is not always the fulfillment of what I want, but the realization of how blessed I am for what I already have"

Noelito Villaban

BS Mechanical Engineering | Cebu State College of Science & Technology
Life is not like a bus that when you miss it you can say, "I'll catch the next trip". Never waste the opportunity to live it and have fun because this joyride passes just once. Never regret the choices you have made in your life, for life is not perfect.