

Seminar Activities

In reality, school education is just there to help students be equipped with the basic and necessary knowledge and skills pertaining to their chosen field of endeavor.

However, the Kff Foundation, Inc. envisions, not only the basic education in school, but to provide them more than beyond what traditional upbringings and teachings are about.

There is a series of trainings, seminars and workshops relevant to enhancing strategic leadership traits and skills, human relations, communication, as well as improving one's self. Further training in people support and management, vital to any leader is continuously added.
