

We Are Trying to be Creative and Competitive

Our different fields don't mean we have different goals. We are trying to be creative and competitive to foster more learning and utilize this to ensure future success in life. Incorporating these characteristics, we can influence each of our fellow scholars to relate themselves to what we are aiming for.

Functioning as individuals but influences the effectiveness of each and everyone as on organization. We have activities to equip us with good communication skills. Our regular Saturday meetings help us with a competitive edge to other scholars of different scholarships.

Reporting gives us confidence in speaking in front of people most especially the evaluative critiques that we receive from our fellow grantees to help us improve ourselves. Reality maybe harsh but it's a good way to learn and step up.

We Are Trying to be Action-Oriented

We are trying to work as a do'er and not a be'er, we don't just say things but we do it. Applying what we've learned in school to every applicable minute of our daily lives.

We Are Open to Learning and Improvements

We are open to learn more and improve to be more competitive individuals. We seek for ways that would brighten our knowledge and explore things we have not known and are not yet capable of. Trainings and Seminars are welcome to us to improve ourselves mentally, physically and emotionally.

We have the edge.
Your support will not be put into waste.
